

Conference planning and organisation is our core business. We have been organising successful conferences, large and small, for a diverse range of subjects and audiences domestically and internationally.

We have developed a very successful process for both the planning and staging of a great conference, at the same time minimising the hands-on involvement required from you, yet keeping you fully informed of progress.

On behalf of the NZ Concrete Industry Conference Organising Committee, I want to thank you for the tremendous job you did in the planning and implementation of our NZ Concrete Industry Conference in Christchurch.

The following tour provides an insight into just how we go about planning and staging great conferences.

Pre-Conference Planning

The initial planning meetings are vital to the success of your conference.

Interpreting the vision, along with the aims and objectives of your conference, is a key element of the initial meeting.

At these meetings a detailed plan to make your conference a success is developed. Timelines, budgets and marketing plans are put in place for all aspects of your conference such as presentations, speakers, social programme, sponsors, trade exhibitors and entertainment.

The time spent in this pre-conference planning is very important, and will pay dividends for the remainder of the conference planning and organisation process.

We will ensure your vision becomes a reality and all the myriad of tasks required to make your conference an outstanding success are covered.

Your conference plan is now ready to proceed.

Conference Programme

Marketing of your conference is a critical component. We will, in conjunction with our suppliers, assist in developing the script and design for the conference brochure, registration form and website. We will then manage and organise distribution of conference publicity to an agreed database.

Social Programme

Development of a successful conference social programme for both delegates and partners is a key factor in your conference being memorable.

We arrange a meeting with key venue personnel and sub-contractors such as the exhibit stand builders and audio visual contractors, and provide a comprehensive brief as to conference requirements.

It is the attention to detail that will determine that your event is a success. We pride ourselves on our attention to detail, even to the extent of ensuring lighting is appropriate for the various functions, both formal and informal.

Audio visual requirements are a vital component to any successful event, and we have developed a network of technicians New Zealand wide that have incredible technical knowledge and state of the art equipment, yet still have the ability to put your speakers at ease prior to and during their presentations.
